IS not the only likeness to be sought in photography unless perchance the subject talks continuously. Some prefer other characteristics brought out.

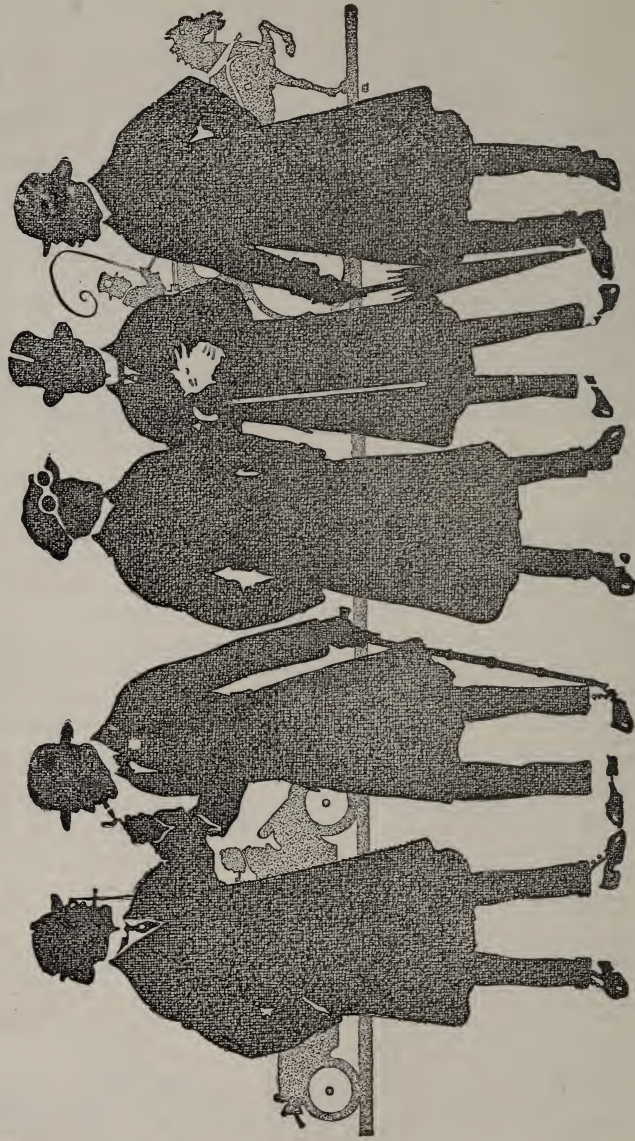

IT'S a matter of taste and in matters of taste Purdy portraits excel. We study to give either action or repose, portraying the character and temperament of the sitter.

IF you would avoid characterless photographs it all depends upon the photographer, his education, his technique and experience. The sure way is to get Purdy portraits.

Men's Fashions

WE believe there are many strangers who would appreciate the work we are doing along the line of artistic "hand-work" on men's custom clothes. We are about the only firm left that insists upon "hand-work," and that uses exclusively imported wools. If you have never tried us, call and let us show you our line of exclusive imported goods, and let us make a suit with individuality in both materials and cut; you will never be contented again with "ordinary" clothes.

CARTER DE HAVEN

"Exceeding the Speed Limit"

Doing the lighter side of the American stage another good turn, A. H. Woods will offer his young star, Carter De Haven, in "Exceeding the Speed Limit," his latest production, at the Colonial commencing Monday Evening, December 2d. Imported from Paris, this musical farce comedy is the work of Antony Mars.

"Exceeding the Speed Limit" is as far away from the beaten track of musical plays as the earth is from the sun. Striking a new chord in its first scene, the same fresh tenor is sustained throughout the three acts. The truth need not be stretched an iota to say that "Exceeding the Speed Limit" will reach the pinnacle of success. Above all things else a farce must contain action and there is almost as much of this quality in the Mars work as a frigate bird can show. It is confidently expected that the ingenuity displayed in the second and third acts will set all Boston to talking.

Mr. De Haven, who combines true ability with that attribute called personal magnetism, will no doubt move a healthy distance to the fore as a comedian by his work in "Exceeding the Speed Limit." A nimble dancer, a good singer and an intelligent actor he improves every opportunity to shine in his new role—and the opportunities are plentiful.

The cast is one of exceptional merit. Miss Elizabeth Murray has been specially engaged to portray the leading female role. Also prominent in the support is Miss Flora Parker. Other names on the roster include Gladys Alexandria, Marion Bell, Lillian Ormonde, Mary Hastings, Frederick Bond, John L. Kearney, Albert Parker, A. E. Walsh and Jay Wilson.

Unusually Low Prices for Early Fur Orders

This year I have inaugurated the policy of making especially tempting prices to early customers to keep my expert furriers busy and also to so please patrons that they will be my best advertisement. I desire to call particular attention to a direct importation of very fine skins of that will make up into very beautiful and graceful garments. I have established a reputation by the superiority of my goods in style, quality, prices and workmanship.

Dress Makes a Difference

It is not difficult to differentiate the Ready-Made-Man from the man whose clothes are fashioned by a first-class tailor.

EVERY MAN DIFFERENT

With the former it would not make so much difference if all men were cast in the same mould. It is the case, however, that no two men are just alike. Ready-made clothes, on the contrary, are cut from identical models.

INDIVIDUAL CLOTHES

The Merchant Tailor in creating a garment has before him the model of the man who is to wear it. In the cutting and draping the artist sees and brings out the good points, hiding at the same time the inequalities and deficiencies.

22 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

We have been creating clothes of merit for 22 years and individuality is one of our strongest points. For Fall Wear our recent importations of English Woolens include many exclusive patterns and new shades.

EXERCISE for the Body is as essential for one's well being as exercise for the brain.

THE PEOPLE of sedentary habits have, as a rule, active minds but because of the limited time at their disposal, allow the muscles of the body to grow flabby from disuse.

WHY NOT cultivate the "TURKISH BATH" habit? It not only stimulates and tones the tired brain, but hardens the body muscles and steadies the entire nervous system.
